porter yesterday if he intended to try and secure the pesition of city attorney. "No, sir," was the answer. "I do not want any office and have made all arrangements to begin the practice of law. The proper thing for the council to do is to re-cleeft City Attorney Allen." "But Mr. Allen says he does not want the place."

"But Mr. Aiem ways no wood the place."
"Well, the council should re elect him any way," persented the judge. "He is a clean, upright man and an able lawyer. He has handled the city's business in excellent shape and I think it nothing but right that the council should give him opportunity to carry out the work he has bearin."

Opportunity to carry out the opportunity of composition of the Mayor Davis also believes that Mr. Mayor Davis also believes that Mr. Allen should have the office again. "I have endeavored to provail upon him to accept the place if it is offered to him, said the mayor. "There are several suit in the supreme court which he has be gun and which he about to allowed it with the court of the man and which he are the man and which he are the man and which he are the man and which are the form the man are the man and the man are the man and the man are the man gun and which he should be allowed it thinks, as they are of vital importance to the city. I do not know how the new council feels upon the subject, but I be here they would retain Mr. Allen it he would accept."

Many other citizens have expressed similar sentiments.
