

EVELETH FIRE BOYS

MET TO ELECT OFFICERS—W. D. ELLSWORTH CHIEF.

General Gossip From the Thriving Little City—Amusing Ball Game —Game Warden's Troubles.

Special to the News Tribune.

EVELETH, Sept. 13.—The annual meeting of Eveleth fire department was held in the fire hall Saturday night and the following officers were elected for the ensuing year: William D. Ellsworth, chief; Matt Prettner, assistant chief; S. Eddie Helps, Captain; Wm. Carrigan, lieutenant; Steven James, secretary; Fred Boorman, Treasurer; Richard Lasch, foreman.

Victor Carlson came up from Moose Lake Saturday and Monday removed his brother's remains to the latter place for burial.

T. W. Driege, of St. Louis, Mo., was here for a few hours Saturday and visited with Fred Boorman, an old friend of twelve years ago. The boys had not met since 1888.

The Hibbing base ball club came over Sunday and crossed bats with the Eveleth boys on their home diamond. The score showed 18 for Eveleth and 4 for the visitors. It was an awful drubbing for the Hibbing team, but they were playing in bad luck while everything seemed to favor the home team. The boys are good players and played ball all the time. This was perhaps the most amusing game ever played on the ranges. Sammy Lren-gore, the Eveleth midget having received a black eye on Labor Day took especial care of that organ and when a player got in his way he butted him down, a scene which always brought applause.

Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Dowling and daughter Dorothy returned Tuesday evening from St. Paul where they have been spending the past couple weeks with friends and visiting the state fair.

The running team of the Eveleth fire department gave a grand ball in the Vail opera house last night to their friends. Good music was furnished and it was a social success.

The ladies of the Presbyterian church are giving a social in the old Poole building on Main street this afternoon and evening.

The Great Eastern clothing store are inaugurating a closing out sale as business is such that Mr. Neuman, the resident manager must go to West Duluth and the firm has decided to close the Eveleth store. Messrs. Kastriner & Neuman have made many friends since they opened up the Great Eastern here a year ago, and their many customers regret to see them leave the town.

William J. Gallop left Thursday morning for Cambridge, Vermont, where he is to be married to Miss Wilma Briggs, a daughter of Dr. Briggs, of that place.

The Duluth & Iron Range road are changing their roadway at the Fayal and are now building a track from the east end of the yards directly east through the location and expect to strike the old track near the Genoa at Sparta.

Fred Viger and family have removed down from the Fayal and are now living in their new house on Favall street near the corner of Grant avenue.

James Tippet, of Tower, deputy game warden for this district was here Wednesday and Thursday looking after some of the meat reported killed in this vicinity recently. Mr. Tippet is a good man and works hard to catch the law breakers but they seem to elude him. However, he will soon be on to the ropes and then those who are slaughtering game to supply boarding houses will have to look out.

Dr. Albert W. Shaw, who for the past three years has been assistant surgeon at the More hospital, left Monday for Buhl where he has secured the appointment as physician for the Drake and Stratton works as well as several mining companies in that locality. Dr. Shaw is a young man of many good qualities and we are pleased to learn of his advancement and brighter prospects for his future. At one time he was demonstrator of anatomy at the state university.
