AMERICAN PEERAGE GROWING

List of Women From This Country Who Have Married Titled Foreigners is Long.

As indicating the extent of international marriages, as far back as 1890 a book was published called "Titled Americans—A List of American Ladies Who Have Married Foreigners of Rank," says Cleveland Moffett in Success Magazine. The list was at that time over 200 pages long and it has grown amazingly since then. Let anyone run over in his mind the names of our conspicuous multimillionaire families—the Astors, Vanderbilts, Goulds, Leiters, Huntingtons, Singers, Drexels, etc.—and he will find that they all have intermarried with titled foreigners. Year after year such unions have increased until today there are American countesses, duchesses, princesses, in every capital and corner of Europe.

CHARM OF YOUNG EMPRESS.

I was so lost in admiration of this wonderful Empress Eugenie that in dancing in the royal quadrille with the Russian consul I forgot to make the usual steps. Everything was symmetrically perfect in her; the slender, graceful figure with the beautifully modeled shoulders, which were enhanced by the white dress she wore, profusely embroidered with pearls and silver. Her exquisite shape attracted me perhaps even more than did the classically beautiful head, with the noble regular features and the auburn hair, upon which sparkled a royal diadem. Her charming smile bewitched me as much as did the few friendly words she addressed to me in her melodious voice.—From Princess Von Reckowicz's Autobiography.

APPROPRIATE.

He had just been reading a bound volume of Punch, issued at the time when the ferocious pun used to run rampant through the pages of that periodical moving down acres of budding humor in its path. Wearily he laid the volume aside. "I have a new motto for John Bull," he remarked. "What is it?" asked his friends. "The pun never sets on the British dominions."

IN THE MARKET.

Count Sarsfield, Lord Lucan, descendant of the royal branches of Lorraine and Capet, and other sovereigns of Europe, wishes to contract an alliance with a lady capable from her rank and talents of supporting the dignity and titles, which an alliance so honorable would confer on her.

Address, Poste Restante, a Paris. "Ad" in Galignani's Journal, 1818.

AS THE BOBBY SAW IT.

"A policeman at Bow street was very courteous to me when I paid a recent visit to London," said a traveler at the St. Regis at New York. "He saw that I was an American and he gave me a good seat in the court room and made some very useful explanations. I remarked the humane way in which the prisoners were treated and the quickness with which justice was dispensed and gave the policeman the benefit of my observations. His reply took away my breath.

"Why, bless yer 'eart, sir," he said; "the 'igher the civilization the greater the justice."

QUICK ACTION.

"How are you makin' out?" asked one Pullman porter. "Well, I used to think I was doin' pretty good," replied the other. "But after seein' a train held up by a road agent the other day I feel like throwin' this old whiskbroom away and gettin' a revolver."

THE KIND WORD.

"A kind word is never spoken in vain." "Did you ever speak a kind word to a cross dog that was rushing at you when there was not a tree or a telegraph pole near?"
