That Duluth society people are taking a keener interest in the quality of amusements and are showing a disposition to study the drama and the opera is becoming more and more apparent.

The visit here last week of the Lambardi Opera company called out audiences perhaps more select than numerous. The play, "Cousin Kate," put on by local talent and acted intelligently, brought out a discriminating audience and much interest is being shown in the presence of M. Papot, manager of the French theater in Chicago, who comes to give an inspirational message to all who are interested in the improvement in amusement conditions.

The next play to be put on by local talent will be the first venture made under the inspiration and guidance of Mrs. Robert Morris Seymour's drama class. The cast will include men and women prominent locally, and society will make a big event of it.

Last week, especially, was given up to cozy parties before the grate fire, and evening bridge parties, small affairs which hostesses wish unheralded, sustained a general revival.

There are no big affairs in immediate prospect, although the assembly ball will take place early in February. There will be some handsome functions during February, and at least one splendid Colonial party for Washington's birthday.

As the Lenten season approaches, the social events, though small, will be somewhat crowded together.

The return to Duluth of Mr. and Mrs. Sargent McGonagle was featured by a beautiful reception given by Mrs. W. A. McGonagle at her home in Hunters Park, where the women of Duluth society called on young Mrs. McGonagle, nee Farmer.

The Alda concert tomorrow night at the Lyceum will be a brilliant social and musical event. The subscribers number more than at any previous concert of the season and the following is a partial list:
