

AT THE SAVOY

W. M. Abrahamson, owner of the Savoy Theater, announces that he has taken over active management of his playhouse. Mr. Abrahamson says, "We are catering to the ladies of Duluth who tired from their shopping want to spend a comfortable hour at the Savoy matinee. The per-hour is continuous and patrons are at liberty to come and go as they please."

This week's show at the Savoy is one of the best in the city. The enthusiastic manager says that for music and talent his bill cannot be beaten.

Every act is a headliner. Cole and Davis mingle comedy and pathos in a Hebrew act of which Joe Welch would be jealous. The skit is a funny one and the boys are singers of a new school. Miss Kathrynne Hawthorne has won the hearts of hundreds of Savoy patrons by her ability with the saxaphone. Miss Frankie Russell is a pretty little comedienne with a number of new ones.

The motion pictures are of the usual high standard set by the Savoy management. Three reels of pictures are put on in addition to the regular bill.
