

BOWERY MERCHANT IS BEATEN IN LAW SUIT

Charles R. Johnson was given a verdict against Frolke Labovitz for $27 in district court yesterday. Johnson was suing for $1,000 damages and $50, the value of a watch and money he claimed to have been coerced into spending in Labovitz' store on the bowery while intoxicated.

Judge Cant asked the jury to fix the value of the watch and money.