

PLEASED WITH SPRING STYLES

Albenberg at Home From Buying Trip Throught Eastern Markets.

M. C. Albenberg of the Miller-Albenberg company has returned from New York and other eastern markets where he made extensive purchases of goods for the coming season, and states that the spring styles and models are the most beautiful and becoming they have been in years.

Mr. Albenberg has purchased some of the finest selections of medium and high-grade merchandise shown in the eastern markets and is much elated to be able to offer to Duluthians so many different styles in spring garments.

"The outer garments or wraps are unique," said Mr. Albenberg, "and have that graceful drape-like effect. They are quite chic in new short lengths and fancy cut-away designs."

Mr. Albenberg says that both rough and smooth materials will be in style, and that many attractive checks and two-toned effects are used. The soft silk materials, crepes, ratine, eponge, matelasse, sweater cloths, Canton crepes, crepe de chine and meteors bring out the new and novel Bulgarian, Tango and San Fay effects, which are being used in suits and dresses.

The smartest spring creations in millinery are the clever reproductions of the foreign patterns and are cleverly made with fascinating plumage, aigrettes, exquisite moire silk and crepe, as well as the striking Bulgarian and Roman effects.

New shipments are arriving at this establishment daily and will be displayed prominently.
