NORMAL NOTES
The regular devotional exercises were held Monday noon, in chapel. Mrs. Mejele Hrisan, a junior, gave two selections, Liszt's, Banderla and Tarantelle by Toulki, which were very artistic and well played. The school chorus then sang an "Old English Hunting Song" very pleasingly. President Bokannon announced that another luncheon would be established, together with several improvements, owing to the crowded condition in the other lunch room. He suggested that the girls form a committee to keep these rooms in an appropriate condition.

Olive Scott of West Duluth, entertained Veronica O'Hara and Margaret at her home, the last week end. Last Friday the Thalian Literary society held a short business meeting at the music room. The spell-down which was to have been given was postponed until Tuesday chorus period. At this meeting it was decided to start an "Old English" campaign for the coming election. It is customary to elect a new set of officers in January, thus giving more students an opportunity to show their capability. The students, who are the members for the fall term are: president, Ruth Rebecca Brown; vice president, Bessie Warren; secretary, Ruth Florence Olsen, and treasurer, Mary Myron. The arrangements which have been made for a sleighride have been cancelled indefinitely.

The Thalian Literary society held a meeting in the rest room Thursday chorus period. The purpose of this was to hold the regular election of officers and conduct a spell-down. After an exciting and enthusiastic nomination of candidates, the following officers were chosen: President, Louise Coe; vice president, Olive Scandling of Iron Mountain, Minn.; secretary, Nellie Ritchie of Howard Lake, Minn., and treasurer, Mary Myron. These girls will hold their offices for the rest of the school year. After the election, several business matters were brought before the members of the society. It was decided to start a canvass for membership for girls whom the Thalian society might need and for girls who might be interested in the Thalian society. It is customary for the literary societies to hold a contest. This year the Thalian Literary society decided to challenge the Greyson Literary society to a spell-down. The participants in this contest will consist of the ten best spellers from each society.

The preliminaries for the ten best spellers in the Thalian Literary society were held in this meeting.
