CITY BRIEFS

From Saturday's Daily. Big Crowd Hears Wood.

About 500 persons attended one of the most interesting lectures and demonstrations that have ever been brought to this city, last evening at the Roosevelt auditorium, when Montraville Wood appeared on the first number of the Lyceum course. Assisted by his daughter, he explained and demonstrated the marvelous phenomena of the ultra-violet ray. Then followed an amusing demonstration of the gyroscope, defying all laws of gravitation, in which a small car mounted on only two wheels, one in the front and one in the rear, is shot up a single wire keeping a perfect equilibrum all the time. Prof. Wood, who is also an aviator, related some interesting experiences of his while in the employ of the United States

Will Send Money Free.

The local agent of the American Express company has been notified by the powers higher up that that company will receive and send free of any charge to Washington, D. C., all monies which are being sent as donations to the Red Cross fund. Virginians who desire to contribute to this fund can leave their money with the local agent of the company and it will receive the same attention as private business. The spirit of the American Express company in aiding in so worthy a cause is most commendable.

Range Given Away this Evening. The fine new Jewel Range displayed in the window of Ala & Anderson's furniture store this week, upon which every visitor to the store has registered a guess as to the number of pieces contained in the range, is to be given to the holder of the lucky number this evening at 8:30 sharp. In order to win the prize the contestant must be present at the stated time.

With the Popular Players.

. Lyric patrons are receiving a good treat in the way of farce comedies this week. "Hello Bill," in which the popular Harry St. Clair players are appearing before packed houses is a alughing scream from start to finish.

Successful Tire Trip.

Charles C. Butler, Jr., returned last evening from a weeks trip to Grand Rapids, Bear River and the surrounding country, where he made sales of Federal tires amounting to over $1,000. The trip was made in his Oakland, for which, together with the Allen, he is the range representative.
