

WINS $100 PRIZE FOR ROAD-BUILDING ARTICLE

---

(Range Bureau of the News Tribune.)

VIRGINIA, July 17.—Ben Wilk, second assistant city engineer, who graduated from the engineering department of the state university in June, today learned that he had won the $100 prize offered by a Pittsburgh company for the best paper on road building. Several students in the engineering school competed for the prize.