The beautiful home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bell Cotton at 2309 East First street was the scene of a charming function last evening, when Mr. and Mrs. Cotton entertained 80 guests at a dancing party.

The large drawing room on the first floor was used for dancing, the only decorations of the room being the softly shaded lights and the masses upon masses of golden glow against the white marble fireplace. Music for a fascinating program of dances was furnished by the Esther Gomberg orchestra.

The library had simple clusters of phlox and baby's breath, and a huge bouquet of gladioluses occupied a tall vase at the end of the room. In the sun parlor purple cosmos was daintily arranged in baskets against the wall, and in vases on the table.

In the dining room there was an especially effective centerpiece of baby's breath and red snapdragons, just below the chandelier. Pink gladioluses in the hall led the way to the broad stairway, and in the upper rooms sweet peas and baby's breath furnished the simple decorations.

The sun parlor and the veranda were popular between the dances. On the veranda the rugs, swinging divans, potted hydrangeas and tables of golden glow made a delightful resting place. The guests were Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Draper, Mr. and Mrs. John Peyton, Mr. and Mrs. Murray Peyton, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Baldwin, Dr. Homer Collins and Mrs. Collins, Mr. and Mrs. Francis de Groat, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Ireland, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Patrick, Mr. and Mrs. G. Ashley Tomlinson, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Gillette, Mr. and Mrs. Heber Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Cavour Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Ward Ames Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Luster, Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Towne, Mr. and Mrs. Howard T. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Williamson, Mr. and Mrs. James E. Gardner Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Whitney Wall, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Hartman, Mr. and Mrs. George C. There were eight guests. Nasturtiums were artistically used in the decorations, hanging baskets of the blossoms being suspended from the chandelier.

Miss Louise Frick and Duncan Frick will entertain a group of the junior set at a dancing party Tuesday evening at the Country club.

An unusually effective affair was the dinner-dance given at the Boat club last evening by the rowing division. The heroes of the recent victories were the hosts of the occasion and they had superintended the decoration of the dining room and the ball room. The result was a triumph.

Club colors and crossed oars, pennants and cups proclaiming victory all had their share in the general arrangement. Clusters of sweet peas of all shades known to this variety of bloom did their part toward an ensemble of color and fragrance.

Mrs. Helen Savage and Jack Hurdor gave demonstrations of popular dances, and those present proceeded to put these in practice. La Brosse's orchestra furnishing the music.

Among the hosts at dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. George Crosby, with a party of 36, occupying three tables in the center of the room; Mr. and Mrs. George A. Elder, 7; J. F. Matteson, 7; R. W.
