Duluth's "Second Mozart," Louis Roos Gomberg, who has appeared in Chicago and Pittsburgh, has been successfully received, according to word received from his teacher, Mrs. D. H. Day, who is managing his recitals.

The young pianist appeared before an audience composed of musicians, musical critics and students in a small hall in an art building in Pittsburgh and delighted his listeners by his excellent work. His program in Chicago was also well received. At present Mrs. Day and her protege are in New York and will stop at Pittsburgh on their return trip, where Louis will give a concert.
