

The marriage of Miss Rose Litman and Nathan Love took place Sunday night at the Adath Israel synagogue. The bride wore a gown of white taffeta with over-drape of shadow lace, trimmed with pearls and she carried a bouquet of white lilies. Miss Karodonsky, the maid of honor, wore a crepe gown made with a court train, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses. Miss Clara Lutin was bridesmaid. Her gown was of pale pink trimmed with rhinestones. She carried pink roses. The flower girl was May Lukin and Dave Litman was flower boy. Jal Litman was best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Talmud Torah institute. Covers were laid for 100 guests. Dancing followed the dinner. Among the out-of-town guests were: Miss Clara Lutin, Hartford, Conn.; Miss Tillie Karodonsky, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. J. Levenstein, Hurley, Wis.; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Litman, St. Paul; Mrs. Sarah Levenstein, Port Arthur, Can.
