

CLOTHING MERCHANT FINED.

Convicted by a jury on the charge of keeping open his clothing store on Sunday, Louis Simon, member of the firm of J. Simon and Son, 523 Tower avenue, was fined $10 and costs in municipal court by Judge Parker yesterday and has five days in which to file an appeal, which he probably will do, through his attorney, Henry C. Wilson. Representatives of the local clerks' union charged that a number of the merchants on lower Tower avenue make it a practice to keep open on Sunday.
