

LODGE ENTERTAINS AT OPEN MEETING

Supt. of Schools Hoke and Orpheum Stars Guests of B'nai B'rith.

Superintendent of Schools K. J. Hoke was the honor guest at the open meeting of Covenant lodge, B'nai B'rith, at Temple Emanuel last night.

A vaudeville program of exceptional merit featured the evening, its headliners being Bert Levy and Miss Anna Chandler, appearing at the Orpheum this week. Levy, in characteristic happy vein, delighted the audience with a merry lot of good humor, and Miss Chandler sang two numbers.

A sextette composed of the Misses May Klein, Esther Abrahamson, Rae Hammell, Sadie Gingold, Miriam Bondy and Alice Wetzler gave several song numbers. Miss Esther Gomberg accompanied at the piano.

The program was arranged by A. B. Kapplin, president of the lodge.

Addresses were given by Dr. Hoke and Dr. Maurice Lefkovits. Dr. Hoke spoke briefly on the relations of the home and the school.

Dr. Lefkovits called attention to the ancient Jewish customs which were being adopted in the educational systems of today.

"Compulsory education has always been a Jewish tenet," the speaker declared, "and manual training was adopted centuries ago by the Jews, each child being compelled to learn a trade."

RAILROAD MEN IN CITY.

John Chandler, traveling passenger agent of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway; William Hughes, traveling passenger agent of the Burlington Route, and D. Small, traveling freight agent of the Erie railroad, were business visitors at the Duluth railroad offices yesterday.
