Health Inspector Recommends Inclosing of Edibles Of- fered for Sale.

WOULD PROTECT FOOD FROM FLIES AND DUST

Proprietors of Basement Rapped by Official—Semi-Annual Scorings.

A city ordinance making it compulsory that bakery goods, candies and confections be kept under cover, to protect them from flies, dust and handling by customers, is urged by Inspector Joseph Pratt, who yesterday filed with Public Safety Commissioner Silberstein his semi-annual scorings of bakeries, restaurants, hotels, boarding houses, candy factories and similar places of business.

Inspector Pratt also recommends an ordinance prohibiting the use of roller towels in public places. The scorings, he says, are fully up to standard and speak well for local proprietors, especially since they were taken at the time of year when conditions are apt to be poorer than usual.

Scores Basement Bakeries.

In his report he says the proprietors of basement bakeries and restaurants, declaring they are forgetful of the welfare of their employees.

"It seems," he says "that as a general rule they are not interested in bettering the working conditions of the employees by providing more healthful workrooms."

None of the hotels, bakeries or restaurants received perfect scores, but a few missed the high mark by barely one point. The Zinsmaster-Smith Bread company, John Wahl candy factory and the Mars-Pantaze candy factory each received a scoring of 99.
