

Minneapolis Wedding of Interest

A wedding which will bring a Minneapolis young woman to Duluth took place last night when Miss Charlotte Sanborn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George L. Sanborn, Minneapolis, became the bride of Earle Folsom of this city. The bride is not unknown to Duluthians, she was a season's last year in the Washington Junior high school of this city, being a graduate of the University of Minnesota.

The service was read at 8 o'clock by Rev. Sanford L. Russell of All Saints church in the home of the bride's parents, 2528 Second avenue south, only the immediate families and a few intimate friends witnessing the ceremony. The bride's cousin, Margarette Gillette, of Duluth, maid of honor, and the best man was Raymond Sanborn of Elgin, N. D., a brother of the bride. The bridegroom's cousin, Billy Millman, was the ringbearer. Miss Marie Short of Austin, Minn., who was the bridesmaid, played Mendelssohn's wedding march. The marriage took place before an unprovoked shower of palms and anthurus in the living room of the Sanborn home.

The bride wore a gown of Georgette crepe over tulle, satins made short, and her veil was held about her head with pearls. The maid of honor wore an American Beauty tulle gown veiled in tulle of the same color. Neither carried flowers. The bride's mother was gowned in black silk trimmed in net, with a touch of white.

After the ceremony a large reception was held for which 300 invitations were issued.

Club Inaugurates Studio Tea Idea in Duluth.

A prominent woman's club in the city yesterday inaugurated a new form of entertaining at an artist's tea. This idea is being carried out in Washington, D. C., this season by Mrs. Marvin E. Underwood, who is doing much to benefit the local artists. She is a woman of highly artistic feeling and judgment, and is making an effort to bring the work of artists more to the eyes of the public and make them better acquainted with the talent in their midst. She is a staunch believer in the studio tea instead of the mere pink tea event to which so many women rush hour after hour during almost every afternoon of the week. Mrs. Underwood is trying this form of entertainment on her artist friends, and would have them do the same even more gifted artist to give a talk on old pictures come to light, or on new canvases, recent exhibits, and perhaps all the way along through in delightful little sidelights on artists' lives which set them apart from the less idealistic citizen. Mrs. Underwood claims that the public is constantly brought in contact with musicians, considerable space in newspapers is devoted to their advancement and their entertainments are recorded, while one much less frequently sees an artist exploited through the same medium.
