EVELETH, May 24.—The Jewish Congress club of Eveleth was organized at a meeting held at the local synagogue this week, when Sol Boblick was elected president. The other officers are: Vice president, Frank Rabinowitz; secretary, N. Karlinsky; treasurer, Jacob Stein.

The local club will be a chapter of the National Jewish congress. Each city of importance in the nation will have such an organization and a convention is to be held in Washington, D. C., next December, to which each local chapter will elect one or more delegates.

At the next meeting of the members of the local club, a speaker from the University of Wisconsin will be in attendance.
