EVELETH JEWS TO CELEBRATE PURIM FESTIVAL IN PLAY

Young Judaea Menorah Club to Give Benefit Program and Dance Next Tuesday.

EVELETH, Feb. 21.—Jewish young people of Eveleth are going to present a play in memory of Queen Esther on Feb. 26, when Jews from all points on the range will attend to join in the Purim observance.

The Young Judaea Menorah club, nearly all high school students, will give the benefit program and dance at the city auditorium next Tuesday night. The play will consist of a three act production entitled "The Book of Esther," and will be given by the members of the club under the direction of its leader, Rabbi A. M. Pfeffer of the local synagogue. The play is based on the historical story of the Jewish holiday Purim, which will be observed by all Jews on Tuesday.

Part of the net proceeds will be donated by the club to the national Zionist fund, which is being raised by Jews in America for the purpose of rebuilding Palestine.

The local young Judaea successfully presented a Chanuka play a few months ago, and it is expected that the entertainment Tuesday will also have a large attendance.

Among those who will take part in the play are the following: Fanny Kaner, Besse Feldman, Cella Stein, Anna Feldman, Morris Greenberg, Nanny Feldman, Abe Stein, Alis Perlman, Abe and Walter Karlinki, Morse Rabinowitz, Marcus Rabinowitz, Samuel Stein, Irving Nathanson and Louis Weiner.

Miss Fanny Kaner will be the leading lady and play the part Queen Esther.

Purim is a Jewish festival of joy also called Feast of Lot and was instituted according to tradition to commemorate the deliverance of the Jews from the machinations of Haman. It is a day on which extreme happiness is expressed.
