

LAKE AVENUE SOUTH IN 1870

THE NEWS TRIBUNE

Lake avenue South from Superior street to the Aerial bridge looks a bit different than it did in 1870, when the above photograph was taken.

In the distance the canal is visible. The district then covered with shanties and frame dwellings is now occupied by big mercantile and wholesale houses.