

DAY OF ATONEMENT TO BE OBSERVED BY SUPERIOR JEWS

Superior Jews are preparing to observe Yam Kippur, the Day of Atonement, one of the greatest days of the calendar year, 5679, an occasion which is always celebrated by believers in the Hebrew faith who abstain from food and drink during the period which begins at sundown on Sunday, Sept. 15, and continues until sundown of the following day.

Religious ceremonies will be held in the synagogue Beth Hakeneseth Hagdola, 603 Hammond avenue, in charge of Rabbi Samuel Rosenbloom and Isaac Sher. There will also be services at the Hebrew Brotherhood, corner of Sixth street and Hammond avenue.
