

Dr. Shapiro of this city speaks today at New Lyric performances of "The End of the Road." At the request of the state board of health and the local health department, Dr. E. Z. Shapiro of the Duluth Free Venereal Clinic will speak today at both the afternoon and evening performances of "The End of the Road," now being shown at the New Lyric theater. The matinee today will be for women only and Dr. Shapiro will illustrate his talk with views of cases and stages of venereal disease. The evening performances will be for both men and women, a reserved section of the theater having been assigned the dental profession of the city of Duluth as guests of the Minnesota state board of health. The engagement of "The End of the Road" will be brought to a close with the performances tomorrow night. It has been the most remarkable in the history of motion pictures in this city. In addition to breaking all records for attendance under adverse weather conditions, this great masterpiece of the screen has caused more discussion among Duluth people than any picture ever shown here. The nationwide campaign on communicable diseases that is being waged throughout the country has been wonderfully aided by "The End of the Road," which in its startling but true portrayal of life in its everyday weaving, shows shockingly but always convincingly that the wages of loose living and misconduct are physical penalties that only too often involve the most harmless and innocent.
