

OLD BUILDINGS ARE SOLD BY BOARD, ON SITE OF NEW SCHOOL

The old Norris house on East Third street was sold at auction Saturday by the board of education to Roy J. Latts for $900 in order to clear the ground for the erection of the proposed new Liberty school. The small cottage in the rear of the house went to A. Anderson for $22, and Oscar Lavina bought one small shed for $22 and another for $3.

W. D. Gordon, formerly of Duluth and now of Minneapolis, conducted the sale.
