

SOCIAL LIFE QUIET AFTER DEPARTURE OF SCHOOL CROWD

No Large Parties or Teas, Only a Few Younger Girls Left in Town.

A bevy of the younger girls left this week for the east to resume their school work, and many of the young men have also departed for college. The few remaining members of the younger set are beginning their club and philanthropic work preparing to spend the time in useful pursuits until the holidays again bring a series of parties and good times. Duluth society is rather quiet just now. Aside from the eastern girls who were the guests of Miss Charlene Bagley during the week and the two Minneapolis girls who are coming Tuesday to be her guests, Duluth has few of the younger visitors. The teas and parties are all so small that the hostesses are inclined to make little of them.

Among those who will leave this week or the first of next week are Misses Helen and Virginia Fryberger, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Fryberger, who are students at Mount Vernon Seminary, Washington, D. C., as is also Miss Phyllis Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Shaw, East Superior street.

Miss Merry Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pentecost Mitchell, East Superior street, will attend Miss Wright's school at Bryn Mawr, Pa.

Miss Margaret Mitchell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Mitchell, is a student at Rose Mary Hall, Greenwich, Conn.

Miss Isabelle Jacobi will leave during the week for Bryn Mawr where she is a sophomore.

Miss Majorie McCabe will go to Rockford, Ill., to attend Rockford college.

Among those leaving for Minneapolis to attend the state university are the Misses Eleanor Keyes, Helen McRae, Jessie Gustafson, Olga Wellberg, Ann Garon and Muriel Smith.

To Madison will go Miss Elizabeth MacFarlane, who is a junior, Miss Elise Nott, Shores Walker, Ralph Osman and Hamilton Crook.
