

WIVES WIN BACK RIGHTS, LOST BY MARRYING ALIENS

American Women Restored to Citizenship After Losing It by Marrying Aliens.

Several American born women who married aliens were reinstated in the citizenship of their native country yesterday when they took the oath of allegiance to the United States with their husbands. Under a court ruling for Minnesota which now has a presidential franchise for women, wives of alien applicants for citizenship must take the examination and oath of allegiance before the court. Before Judge W. A. Cant in district court these American women swore allegiance to countries they never saw and to kings whose names they may not know.

In 11 instances, the male applicants were denied citizenship because of the failure of their wives to answer questions of the federal examiner. Of 117 applicants, 67 were admitted to citizenship. Sixty ex-soldiers were given certificates of citizenship Thursday which makes a total of 127 new citizens made in Duluth in the last two days.

The names of the citizens given final papers yesterday are:
