THE QUESTION

*How Long Should a Widow
Wear "Weeds?"*

THE ANSWERS

M. LABOVITZ, department store: "It depends entirely upon how much she loved the man who died."

MRS. E. V. MOWREY, East Fourth street: "It all depends. If her husband was kind to her she should wait a long time before laying aside her weeds. If he was unkind, I don't believe she should be so particular."

BERTHA DAHL, cashier: "It depends on the kind of a husband she had."

MARGARETE WESENBERG, 4721 Robinson street: "A widow should wear weeds until the flower of love begins to blossom in her heart again."

MISS EILEEN HOLLANHAHN, student, Lake View drive: "Gee, it depends upon what sort of a widow you mean. A 'grass' widow should never wear 'weeds'."
