

CONFERS WITH LOCAL JEWS ON RELIEF FUND PLANS

Samuel Nebeless, representing the Central Jewish Relief committee of New York city, conferred with leading Jews in the city in the Siegel Brothers store last night in regard to a campaign for funds for the relief of destitute Jews in Europe. The date for the starting of the campaign is yet to be decided.

Mr. Nebeless stated that official reports received by the relief committee are that the Jews are in a terrible condition, suffering from cruelties and from hunger.
