

Society

Mrs. B. Fink and Daughter

Mrs. Flossie Clark and Son

Miss Ruth Hoar

MRS. FINK and her daughter, whose home is in Hollywood, Cal., are in the city for several weeks as the guests of Mrs. Fink's parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Oxman.

MRS. CLARK, one of the noted readers of Dubuque, Iowa, is spending the summer with her mother-in-law, Mrs. S. W. Clark, East Third street. Mrs. Clark is a former resident of Duluth and has many friends here.

AMONG the brides of the midsummer, is Miss Hoar, one of the younger violinists of the city, whose marriage to Lawrence Dow will take place Friday night.

IN THE PICTURE of the Atmore-Vollmar bridal party which was taken following the marriage of Miss Grace Vollmar and George W. Atmore Jr., on Thursday, are, from left to right: Edmund Killeen, Melvin Kraus of Marshfield, Wis., the bridegroom, George W. Atmore Jr., Mrs. Atmore, Miss June Horne, Harold Haley, and Miss Helen Atmore, sister of the bridegroom. In front are Frederick Wolff and Grace Hoene, the little page and flower girl.

Members of the Atmore-Vollmar Bridal Party.

—Home Portrait by Auermiller.