

City's Jewish Kiddies Happy—Channukah!

Channukah, the feast of the lights, will be observed by Duluth Jews for one week beginning Monday Dec. 26. The observance is in commemoration of the tradition concerning an urn of oil, used for lighting the temple of Jerusalem, which served for one week and which was regarded as a miracle.

The holiday is among the prettiest in the Hebraic calendar, corresponding in a measure with the gift-giving spirit of the Christmastide. During the week the youngsters' anticipation of gifts usually is rewarded.

Special orthodox services will be conducted in Adas Israel synagogue, in Hebrew institute as well as reformed services by Rabbi Alvin S. Luchs of Temple Emanuel congregation.
