

JEW'S PREACH DOCTRINE OF LIBERTY, RABBI SAYS

"The Jew has been the first to preach the doctrine of liberty and freedom: he has always fought tyranny and oppression to all parts of the world where he seeks refuge." Rabbi Lebendiger told members of the Moses Montiflore Hebrew institute in an address last night, in which he scored anti-semitism propagandists.

The Jew is now accused of attempting to overthrow all kingdoms and establish a tyrannical Jewish world empire," said Rabbi Lebendiger. "What shall the Jew think of a world that has room for such stupidity and ignorance?"

He discounted allegations that the Jew used Christian blood in his preparation of matzoth, Passover food, with the statement that the orthodox Jew abstained from eating anything containing blood.
