

Tiny Tots Corner

Here's New Contest to Please Tiny Tots

Aunt Betsy has arranged for this week a new contest over which her Tiny Tot family can spend some of the hours of their playtime, perhaps in the evening before the sandman calls. It is this:

Six prizes of 50 cents each will be offered to as many Tiny Tots who draw for Aunt Betsy the thing they have seen in the News Tribune during the week which most interested them. It doesn't make any difference what it is, whether it is a story or a picture or a poem. But the Tiny Tots must draw a picture of what interested them most. Do not tell it in words.

When you have finished your drawing address it to Aunt Betsy, care of The Duluth News Tribune.

a letter of my own in print. I have brown eyes and hair and was 12 the first of this month and I am in the seventh grade. I like to write stories and make up poems. In school we were to write a composition on a penny. My teacher told me mine was very good and so I am sending it to you and you can judge for yourself. Yours lovingly,

FERN,
Duluth, Minn.,
March 29, 1921.

Dear Aunt Betsy: I am trying my luck at coloring the little chicks and eggs. I never was very good at it but I just thought I would try for once. I am also sending a little poem I made up, to go with the picture. It will have to do without a name for I don't find one satisfying, or if you like you could find it a name.

Look at these little chickens. Just hatching from their eggs. Trying to stand up straight and tall. On their weak little legs.

Their eggs are speckled brown and white and yellow. Look at that one in the shell. A cunning little fellow.

Looking about this world, Thinking it so funny. Maybe he's looking for the Easter Bunny.
