

Estate of Julius Cook

$34,800, Petition Says

Julius Cook, whose body was found in the office of his brother at 213 West Superior street, Saturday left an estate valued at $33,854, according to a petition for administration filed in probate court yesterday by the mother Ida D. Cook. Cook was 47 years old.

The deceased owned stock valued at $15,000 and realty in Duluth and Douglas county, Wis., valued at $18,200 the petition sets forth. The remainder of the estate is personal property.

Heirs are given as the mother, three sisters, Etta Joseph of Duluth, Annie Shapero and Hannah Goodman of St. Paul, and three brothers, Barney, Malr and Mose S., all of Duluth.
