Miss Catherine Cadwell, 213 Chestnut street, underwent an operation in a local hospital on Friday.

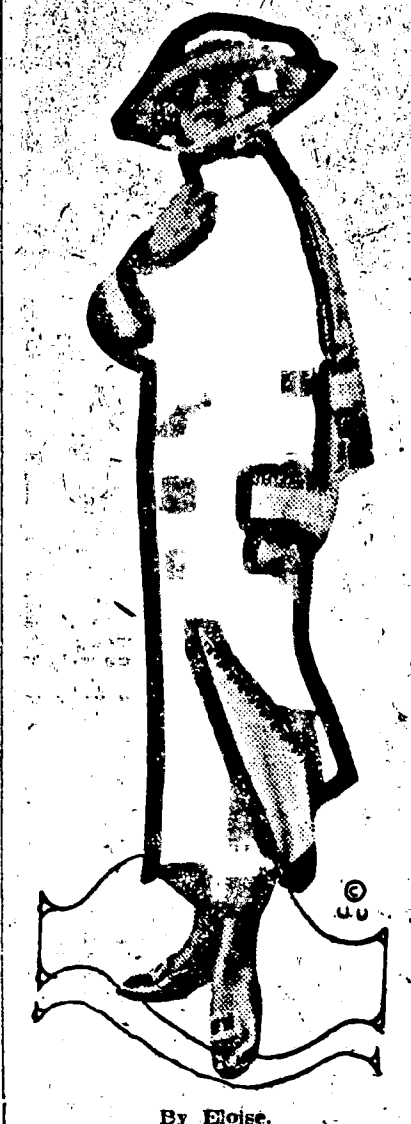

Miss Esther Menes, 214 Walnut street, will be away for a few days, N. D., where she has been engaged as instructor in the schools for the coming year.

The General Aid of the Methodist church will meet in the church parlors at 3 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. District four members will be hostesses.

The Rebekah Circle will meet in Odd Fellows hall at 2:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Thompson, North Sixth street, left today for Fargo, where they expect to reside.

WHITE TRIMMING ISN'T PRACTICAL BUT IT'S SMART

By Eloise.

Latin has used heavy oxford gray trelaine to develop this smart wrap for late fall and winter wear. Black University of North Dakota last spring, was in the city Friday evening, and left today for Aberdeen, N. D., where she is to teach school.

The coat has a rather military or Russian air about it, which is brought out by the high collar and the shoulder cape. The braid trimming, the embroidery and the two-toned bands all hint strongly to strutting generals and decorated army men of high rank. The black and white hat of velvet faced with silk is a perfect topping for this coat.

Miss Loretta Symington of Neche, N. D., visited here Friday with her cousin, Miss Jennie Duncan, en route to Winnipeg, Minn., where she will be professor of home economics and physical training director in the high school during the coming year. Miss Symington is an alumna of the University of North Dakota. She will spend the week-end in Minneapolis at a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Young, former residents of Neche.

Miss Iva Young of Cavalier and Miss Ruby Young of Neche accompanied Miss Symington here and they were guests at the home of their aunt, Mrs. L. O. Ferch, 401 North Fourth street. Miss Ruby Young left Friday evening for Minneapolis, where she will attend school, and Miss Iva Young is remaining to spend the week-end here before proceeding to Linton, N. D., where she will teach.

Miss Helen Lehman, 1103 North Fourth street, left this morning to spend a week visiting in Hensel, N. D.

Dr. and Mrs. Thos. Mulligan, who have spent ten days motoring in Minnesota, have returned home. They spent some time at Itasca Park, Bemidji, Detroit and Ada, Minn., and also visited with relatives in Fargo.

Frances Pierce Bride At Quiet Ceremony Today

At 7:30 o'clock this morning occurred the marriage of Miss Frances L. Pierce, daughter of Mrs. Edith M. Pierce of this city, to Edward M. Hunter, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. O. Hunter of Hankinson, N. D. The service was read by the Rev. Jonathan Watson in St. Paul's Episcopal church in the presence of only the immediate relatives of the two young people.

Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served in the bride's home, and later in the morning Mr. and Mrs. Hunter left for Detroit and Minneapolis, traveling by motor. They will be back in the city after September 15, at 1624 International avenue.

L. W. Myers will contribute a solo, "Judge Me, O God," by Bach, at the 11 o'clock service at St. Paul's Episcopal church on Sunday morning.

Evangelist A. Olsson will speak Sunday forenoon at 10:45 and in the evening at 8 o'clock in the Scandinavian Baptist church, corner of Fourth and Washington streets. Mr. Olsson will also sing with guitar accompaniment. All Scandinavians are cordially invited.

Mrs. Irma Mallory Fisher, now of Minneapolis, formerly of Grand Forks, is in the city with her mother, Mrs. E. O. Mory, 219 Euclid avenue, and today sang at the wedding of Miss Louise Black, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. E. Black of this city.

Mrs. Fisher has a two weeks' engagement with the Grand Forks and Minneapolis and with the Capitol theater in St. Paul, beginning on Tuesday, and on Friday evening, next week, she will sing for the Tribune broadcasting radio station here. She, who has radio receiving equipment, will be in position to hear Mrs. Fisher, who is a contralto of recognized ability.

Mrs. J. W. Wilkerson and her two daughters, Marjorie and Jean, 2800 University avenue, have returned from a two week motor trip through Minnesota. They made stops at a number of the lakes and also visited with friends in Minneapolis. At Albany, Minn., they were met by Mrs. Wilkerson's brother and sister-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. T. A. Watson.

Miss Pearl Thompson of Fargo, formerly of Grand Forks, is in the city as the guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. King for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. King expect to leave shortly for Los Angeles and San Diego, Cal., where they are to make their home.

Rev. and Mrs. S. T. Tallackson, in company with Rev. and Mrs. M. E. Anderson of Kindred, N. D., left by motor Friday to go to Roseau county, Minn., for a week's vacation. They will visit in former parishes and will return here in time for Sunday school rally here, September 10.

Mrs. P. A. McClellan and possibly other members of the local order, Women's Relief Corps, will attend the convention which will be held in Des Moines, Iowa, September 24 to 26, it was stated yesterday. Mrs. McClellan will go as one of three delegates elected at the state convention which was held at Wahpeton, N. D., this spring. Mrs. Louise Hoffman of Jamestown and Mrs. Harriet C. Jones of Lisbon are the other official representatives of North Dakota who will attend the national meeting.

Announcement has been made that to all members attending the convention in Des Moines a single fare will be granted by the Northern Railway round trip. The delegates will leave Fargo on September 24 and will leave Minneapolis in a special car at 10 p. m. on the evening of the 24th.

The North Dakota department will headquarter at the Rogers Hotel in Des Moines.

There will probably be several members of the local order, The Des Moines gathering of the G. A. R., which, as usual, will be held in conjunction with the Relief Corps meeting.

The meeting of the American Legion Auxiliary which was called for Friday evening, was adjourned because of the absence of a quorum of members. The meeting will probably be held on Monday evening, but a definite announcement will be made later in this regard.

Miss Ruth Quam, 617 Chestnut street, left Thursday evening for New York City where she will visit at the city schools during the coming year. En route, she planned stops at Fargo, Minn., and Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Jeddell, 702 South Third street, returned Friday from a motor trip to the Grand and Yellowstone parks. They have been away for the past month.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Kneeland and their daughter, Miss Mary Kneeland, who expect to leave early next week to make their home in Los Angeles, are guests of Mrs. Kneeland at 100 North Sixth street, for the remainder of the period of their stay here.

Billy Whiskers

By Frances Triggs Montgomery.

"But how did you happen to get off so well?" asked Dick when Harry turned up with gas and water. "What did you do when the storm struck you?"

"Well, I tried to push ahead, but when I found I could not, I just turned back and let the wind carry me before it until it finally died away. Then I came back to look for you, only stopping to get something to eat and drink, replenish my supply of gas and water. That will not do any harm, Harry. And thank you I am that I found you!"

"It is getting so dark, don't you think we had better not carry on while we are together, and then get an early start in the morning?" asked Dick.

"Listen," said Harry, holding his hand up for them to keep silent. "Billy or Stubby could have told you. For the moment we are new to them. It was a much dreaded sight, and they ran in close to the boys."

"There it goes again! What can it be?" said Harry, looking at the sky. "It is a prairie wolf howling," said Dick.

"What a dismal sound they make," said Tom. "I never heard them before in my life. Are they dangerous?"

"That depends on how hungry they are, and how many there are in the pack. They will attack and kill a person unless they are starving."

"From the cry it sounds as if there were two or three dozen of them," said Harry.

"No," answered Dick. "I hardly think there are so many, as they have a peculiar way of barking that is like a wolf's back sound, but at least two or three. But just the same I think we had better get out of here, strap our cartridge belts on and have our long hunting knives in readiness. They would be good in case of a close call."

"Listen, listen," said Harry. "They are coming nearer and from the sound I should judge they were on the run."

"I hate the sound of their bark," said Tom. "It makes the shivers run down my back. And I know it does the same to you. Billy and Stubby, for wolves like goats and sheep, and even dogs. From the way Billy and Stubby are acting, I think this is the first time they ever heard them. I never saw Billy show the least fear before, and I should not wonder if he had been nearly eaten at some time in his numerous adventures. He is growing so dark I can scarcely see him, but I can make out a large pack of wolves running in this direction. I should say they are about twenty in the pack. Tom, as he laid down his field glasses, (Monday you will hear of the exciting encounter with the wolves.)"

Miss Grace Osborne and Miss Florence Ovid of Emerydale are visiting friends in the city this week-end.

LAKOTA NOTES

SAW AVIATION MEET. Port Air Prince, Haiti.—For the first time in the history of the world, an aviation meet as a republic. Haiti saw a modern aviation meet this week on the flying field of the fourth century. The marine corps aviation force.

President Louis F. Borno, the members of his cabinet and the heads of the major Haitian clubs and the council of state were the honor guests of the American high commissioner, Brigadier General John E. Russell. Madame Borno, wife of the president, headed a large delegation of Haitian society and one feature of the unequalled success of the meeting was the growing friendship and growing approachment between Haiti and America.

timed American official and social circles. It is estimated that a total of 2,000 persons witnessed the aviation program that was carried out without mishap on a day.

Flights in formation, a daring mock fight between two swift planes, the transportation to the field of a simulated casualty and the immediate transfer to a waiting ambulance, a parachute drop, acrobatic stunts, target practice with machine guns and dumpy bombs, and the antics of a squad of clowns, the entire program of the aviation meet excited the liveliest interest and admiration of President Borno and his companions.
