MILITARY COSTS FACTOR

There have been hints that the new president has plans for ending the Korean War, but whether these imply more or less military spending, or perhaps more for awhile and then less later on, are all sheerest conjecture.

sheerest conjecture.

Upon the level of government spending will depend taxes. One sure thing about Eisenhower. It has been some sure thing about Eisenhower. It has been some some sure thing about Eisenhower. It has been some some sure thing about Eisenhower. It has been some some sure that he will press for a balanced budget. There is little chance of much tax reduction until after revenues and expenditures are brought into balance.

A new national administration takes over on January 20. Just what this is going to mean in a lot of important categories cannot be predicted at the moment.

Perhaps most fundamental of all will be the decision of Gen. Eisenhower on the appropriate level of miltary expenditures.
