DANGER SPOTS IN THE HEAD:

case in the nostrils and throat require attention at once.

1. The Middle Ear—A running ear collects germs of tuberculosis and may pass them down the throat to the lungs. A discharge from the ear may break into the brain. Why run the risk? A discharging ear can be corrected.
2. The Larynx—This structure is the gateway to the windpipe and lungs. It contains the vocal chords and the organ of speech. Diseases of the larynx make the voice hoarse or husky. A hoarse voice may mean larynx, tuberculosis, tumors or cancer. A sore throat and a husky voice need immediate diagnosis.

3. The Middle Ear—A running ear collects germs of tuberculosis and may pass them down the throat to the lungs. A discharge from the ear may break into the brain. Why run the risk? A discharging ear can be corrected.
4. Diseased Tonsils—Germs of many diseases collect in swollen tonsils. The germs that cause rheumatism live in such tonsils. Many rheumatic sufferers, after taking medicine for years without relief, who have had their tonsils removed, have recovered from rheumatism.
