Sarah Etta Silverman (who later chose to go by Sylvia Silverman) and her twin, Tina Silverman, were born on 13 August 1895 in Bessemer, Gogebic County, Michigan to Jacob and Sophie Silverman. Their parents had arrived from Lithuania via Sweden and then Chicago in 1890. Sarah graduated from the Bessemer High School in 1914 and then moved with her family to Duluth, Minnesota, where she worked as the head of the Convention & Tourist Bureau for the Duluth Chamber of Commerce. She died from scarlet fever on 27 February 1924 at the age of 28.
